More than 582,000 international students and 98,000 international scholars study or work at U.S. institutions of higher education¹. You can reach them through NAFSA members who advise these students and scholars—your prospective clients.

NAFSA: Association of International Educators is the world’s largest nonprofit association dedicated to international education with nearly 10,000 members at 3,500 institutions worldwide, representing over 150 countries and 98% of U.S. higher education institutions.

The NAFSA Global Partnership Program currently has three different levels of participation that provide unique opportunities to present services to our members! Now a custom-designed Advocate level only available to immigration law practices has been added! In addition to the Global Advocate benefits that are currently offered (see chart in Global Partnership Program brochure), benefits tailored to the needs of immigration law practices are being offered to ensure your firm’s return on its annual investment. No other program will give your firm more visibility to NAFSA’s members—nationally and internationally!
