

CARNEGIE ENDOWMENT
for International Peace

Association of International Educators

Globalization101.org, a project of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace and NAFSA: Association of International Educators invite you to participate in...

An interview on “Living in a Digital World” between David Vise, author of “The Google Story,” and students from George Washington University

The interview will take place online at www.globalization101.org on Tuesday, April 18th at 3pm EST.

Students everywhere can participate by sending questions in advance to Mr. Vise via e-mail to G101@carnegieendowment.org or by watching the interview. If you would like to integrate this web seminar into your class, download information to prepare your students for this event.
