

Inspiring Youth at Home

AT ST. NORBERT COLLEGE in DePere, Wisconsin, foreign language majors teach local elementary school students in afterschool foreign language and culture classes. The interplay between college-age students who have a passion for the world and its diversity and these impressionable young people is incredible to experience. The mutual benefits for both elementary students and older college students make this program invaluable to the community. St. Norbert students “in action” fill a need for the local elementary schools and give young people a new perspective on their world. Through a local college’s international perspective, from an early age, local elementary students are learning to look beyond the borders of their town—from grade school, they are becoming citizens of the world. IE

JOSEPH D. TULLBANE

Associate Dean for International Education/
Director of the Center for International Education
St. Norbert College

YOU'RE INVITED! We invite you to submit your photos along with a brief (approximately 200 words) description of why these images are important in your understanding of a person, place, idea, or incident from your experiences in international education. The photos could be of a simple moment on your home campus involving international students, a major event in an exotic location, or anything in between. The editors of IE will run selections on this page throughout the year. Please contact us for submission details at elainal@nafsa.org.